A Teknowledge Activity

Activity Outline

- Set up a maze on the floor for your partner to walk through... blindfolded!
- You will have to give them directions so that they can make it from start to finish.

Directions

1. Choose who will make the first maze; then set it up so that your partner doesn't know what it looks like.
2. Write down what directions you think you will give to your partner to help them make it through the maze.

3. Blindfold your partner and put them at the start of your maze.
4. Using your notes from step #2, navigate your partner to the end of the maze.
You may need to change your directions based on how they are responding to each instruction.
5. Switch roles and do it again!

Reflection

- Did your partner not respond how you expected?
- Which instructions worked the best?
